Principal's welcome

Thank you for your interest in working at The Duston School which is part of The Luminara Educational Trust.

As Principal I take great pride in leading the school and supporting the students in their educational journey. The school mantra, 'Knowledge itself is power,' sits at the core of my own educational philosophy and influences all that we do as a school. As a staffing body we really do seek to get to know our students. I also firmly believe, as a parent myself, that if something is not good enough for my children then it certainly is not good enough for our students.

Our core aim is to help students climb the tree of knowledge so they can access University, Higher Education, Employment or an Apprenticeship and be the very best edit of themselves.' All students are inspired to Dream – Believe – Achieve.

TDS is a unique 4-19 mixed school. It is a high performing, successful and oversubscribed school of some 2000+ pupils with a primary phase, secondary phase and a thriving Sixth Form. Our facilities are truly outstanding, including extensive sports grounds, a swimming pool and state of the art purpose built curriculum suites including a designated Sixth Form area. Learning here has never been more exciting.

We believe that TDS should provide our young people with both the currency and character to succeed. We work relentlessly to nurture our students to unlock and achieve their potential.

Our pupils are actively encouraged to make a valuable contribution to society and thrive in a mutually supportive environment. All of our pupils are educated to enter the adult world with a strong moral compass, a real sense of resilience and to be armed with the key transferable skills that will allow them to succeed in an ever changing and fast paced globalised labour market. Our innovative curriculum enables them to gain the highest qualifications, acquire flexible life-long learning skills, and be ready to act responsibly as global citizens. We also promote the social, moral, spiritual and cultural development of our pupils, including a recognition and understanding of Fundamental British Values.

If you share our vision and know you want to make it a reality for The Duston School, we very much hope you will apply for this post. We look forward to hearing from you.

TDS Ethos and Values

At The Duston School a heavy emphasis is placed on the role of the tutor, who students meet twice a day every day. The tutor acts as the primary advocate for their tutees and, in many respects, acts as their Duston School parent. This is the person that parents/guardians will primarily have contact with to discuss their son/daughter's education.

The Duston School is built upon three core values, Resilience, Respect and Aspiration. We expect all of our students to exhibit and display these core traits in their daily life at The Duston School, within the wider community and as they move into the next phase of their life once they leave our educational setting.

The Duston School community was canvassed to help create a new school mantra, 'Knowledge itself is power'. This echoes the words of Kofi Annan, "Knowledge is power. Information is liberating. Education is the premise of progress, in every society, in every family." Knowledge provides us with the power to help others, in a variety of ways. It is also something that is good for our own self esteem. In addition, knowledge imbues us with authority and enables us to act and interact with others in a more moral way. As a school, we feel knowledge is power because:

Knowledge liberates us

Knowledge sets us free, and makes us less dependent on others. Freedom is essential to any democracy. Being truly free means that we do not use our power to control other people against their will.

Knowledge commands positive respect

True knowledge commands more respect than mere empty authority within a hierarchy ever could. If we have knowledge, we can direct others' decisions and help them to enhance their lives. Having knowledge about a relevant subject imbues us with authority. No matter who we are, or how old we are, if we have knowledge that is useful to other people, then those people will respect us.

Knowledge boosts our self-esteem

Possessing knowledge can really give us a feeling of self-fulfilment and confidence. Knowledge is something that we can always fall back on. In addition, if we find ourselves facing a trial in life, knowledge can enable us to find a solution to the issue that boosts our self-esteem even further.

Knowledge creates positivity

The process of seeking and finding knowledge teaches us to have a positive attitude about life. It teaches us to be motivated, determined, engaged with the world and self-reliant. It also fills us with enthusiasm and joy.

Primary Phase at TDS

Our Primary School opened in September 2015 and has two classes making up each year group from Reception to Year 6.

The school environment is bright, light and welcoming and children enjoy coming to school. Highly skilled staff work as a team to drive learning forward through specifically chosen, high quality teaching methods. Highly effective targeted teaching, swift intervention, high expectations and feedback as well as close relationships with parents ensures that all groups of children achieve well.

The Motto 'Be Your Best' is fundamental to all we do in the Primary Phase. 'Care, Challenge and Succeed' are our core values which are embedded within the language of the school and throughout our curriculum. Children understand the motto 'Be Your Best' and know how to behave well to ensure that school is a calm place in which children can do their best learning.

The Primary Phase Curriculum places 'Powerful Knowledge', knowledge that takes students beyond their own experiences, at its heart.

The knowledge in our curriculum has been carefully chosen and is sequenced in a meaningful way which enables children to progress incrementally and builds from year to year. In this way, the knowledge in the curriculum is cumulative, constructing firm foundations from which children can build conceptual understanding and skills over time. Our curriculum is divided into subjects, recognising the unique identity of the disciplines we study, fostering a love for subject content that will flourish as children move through the curriculum.

An essential element of the Primary Phase curriculum is the development of broad and rich vocabulary, and the ambitious and explicit teaching of this. The vocabulary content of the curriculum has been planned with the purpose of addressing the 'word gap' for children who enter school with limited vocabulary.

Children will:

- Develop the appropriate subject specific knowledge, skills and understanding as set out in the National Curriculum, so that they can reach and exceed their potential.
- Have a holistic set of values that prepares them for life in the modern world in a diverse and ever-changing community.
- Develop the behaviours learners need to succeed in the world which include: concentration, perseverance, imagination, self-improvement and curiosity.
- Develop social skills and build a firm set of personal morals, and engage in the culture they live in and respect the cultures of others.

Young children are naturally good thinkers and our Foundation Stage Curriculum enhances their skills by encouraging them to bring everything they already know to their learning. Planning links ideas and is the beginning of our progressive curriculum. Topics are covered throughout the EYFS setting, both indoors and out. Previous learning is built upon by teaching new knowledge and skills and then planned opportunities are provided where children can apply what they have learnt through planned independent tasks and imaginative play.

What Ofsted have said.....

Strong in every area. Ambitious in every classroom. Incredible because of its people.

At The Duston School we build excellence every day. Our 2026 Ofsted outcome confirms what our staff, students and families already know; that this is a school that is strong in every area because we have the highest of ambitions and aspirations for the community we serve.

I am delighted that the inspectors saw what the leadership team and I see on a daily basis; namely a school that is calm, orderly, purposeful and prioritises teaching and learning. Teachers are able to teach and children are able to learn. This is underpinned by a deeply embedded, positive, relationally rich and fruitful culture that has inclusion running through the heart of all that we do. Inspectors were positive about all of the approaches undertaken by the school and deeply impressed by their impact and the care that staff have for the children. One of the inspectors commented that you can feel magic in the air. The interactions of children and staff were deemed to be incredibly positive; with staff clearly committed to the children, their education and their overall development as a person.

The inspection also demanded multiple meetings, be it with senior leaders, middle leaders, teaching staff, wider members of the staffing body and pupils. A number of key pupils were also shadowed as part of the inspection to ascertain what their typical daily educational diet is like. The inspection team commented on several occasions about the size of the school. The Duston School, with over 2000 pupils on roll and over 200 staff, is one of the largest schools in the country. Given this backdrop the impact of our collective work was highly commended due to the challenge of making such a large school consistent in all that it does.

Of greatest note are some of the comments about what it is like to be a pupil at the school, with the report stating:

'Pupils are happy and enjoy learning at The Duston School.' Coupled with 'despite the school's large size, there is a tangible sense of community that all pupils feel part of.' The report goes on to say 'pupils benefit from a consistently high quality of teaching all through the school.'

The overall thrust of the report is that the school is highly supportive of the children and highly inclusive.

What Ofsted have said.....

As a school we are truly proud of the following:

A SCHOOL WHERE TEACHERS CAN TEACH

At The Duston School we believe teachers should spend their time doing what they entered the profession to do; teaching great lessons, inspiring young people and developing their expertise. We have high standards because high standards create calm classrooms, purposeful learning and exceptional outcomes. When behaviour is right, everything else becomes possible.

A SCHOOL THAT INVESTS IN ITS PEOPLE

The best schools are built by great teachers. Great teachers deserve great development. Whether you are at the beginning of your career or an experienced leader looking for your next challenge, we are committed to helping you become even better. We believe professional development should be meaningful. This is a school where ambition is welcomed, not feared.

A SCHOOL WITH PURPOSE

Every decision we make is driven by one simple question:

Will this improve the life chances of our pupils and support staff to do their job efficiently and easily?

A SCHOOL GOING PLACES

Our latest Ofsted outcome reflects the strength of our provision across the school. But we are not defined by inspection outcomes. We are defined by what happens in the school. The Duston School is a school with momentum. Most importantly, it is a school where we believe in people because people make the school.

Every Ofsted inspection report has historically and continues, rightly, to detail next steps for the organisation. These next steps are intended to support the focus of leaders to continue to drive school improvement. The next steps for The Duston School are:

'Leaders should continue to refine and embed their identified priorities for improvement in order to drive a transformational impact for all pupils.'

In other words, the school improvement priorities that leaders have identified are on the money to continue driving up standards in the school.

What Ofsted have said.....

Northamptonshire

Northamptonshire is a great place to live and work with a future, promising huge investment and growth in the area.

Northamptonshire's prime position is not only a key factor in the development of the county's economy but also a catalyst in helping it remain one of the fastest growing counties in the UK. Located halfway between London and Birmingham, with easy access to the M1 motorway, Northampton is ideally placed for getting around the country. Furthermore both the Midland and West Coast Main Lines pass through the county.

Exciting times are ahead for Northampton with 20 new projects that will shape the future of the town in a multi-million pound investment. The Northampton Alive programme of regeneration includes more than 40 projects. Initial infrastructure works have commenced which will create a confidence and contribute to Northampton's future prosperity.

The county of Northamptonshire is famously known as "The Rose of the Shires", but is also referred to as the county of "Spires and Squires". Rural Northamptonshire is renowned for its picturesque villages and is a fantastic place to live or visit. Separated by miles of rolling countryside and surrounded by hedgerows and dry stone walls, the villages are a mix of styles and periods. Lime, sand and iron-stone cottages and manors contrast with Victorian red brick houses and the area's industrial canal heritage is evident in some villages along the Grand Union Canal.
