	Key Irleas
Five Pillars: Shahada	 The Shahada is the Islamic declaration of faith – it is the most basic element of Muslim belief, it states: There is no god but God, and Muhammad is the messenger of God Muslims say this phrase when they become a Muslim and when they have a baby. The Arabic version appears on the flag of Saudi Arabia and has caused controversy in the past when it has appeared on beer bottles and footballs.
Five Pillars: Salat	 Salat is the ritual of five daily prayers which is kept up by observant Muslims. They take place throughout the day and Muslims stop what they are doing in order to observe them. The ritual of prayer includes wudu, the washing of face, arms and feet and rakat the act of bending, bowing and prostrating which is part of the prayer. On a Friday the most important prayer of al-Juma is said, usually in a mosque.
Five Pillars: Zakat	- Zakat is the act of giving money to those who are poor and in need of assistance Muslims give 2.5% of their wealth every year to charity. Usually this is done in an organised way through a government or charity. Sometimes Islamic communities give the money directly to the poor Zakat al-Fitr is the act of giving money to the poor so they can partake in the festival of Eid al-Fitr which is the feast at the end of Ramadan.
Five Pillars: Sawm	 Sawm is the act of fasting – not eating and drinking for a set period of time. This can be for a few hours, a few days or, during for the entire month of Ramadan. During Ramadan Muslims do not eat or drink between sunrise and sunset – this month is determined by the lunar calendar so falls at a different time each year. During the month of Ramadan Muslims try to be closer to God by reading the Qur'an, reflecting on spiritual matters and praying more frequently. Muslims come together, either as families or larger groups, to break their fast at the sundown meal of iftar. The end of Ramadan is celebrated by the feasting festival of Eid ul-Fitr.
Five Pillars: Hajj	 The Hajj is the pilgrimage to Mecca which all Muslims are bound to make once in their lifetime. The pilgrimage occurs during a single month and follows a set pattern of rituals including circling the Kabbah seven times, visiting Mount Arafat and stoning the devil. Pilgrims all wear a simple cloth called the ihram as part of their pilgrimage, this ensures all pilgrims appear the same and are not distinguished by wealth. The city of Mecca is only accessible to Muslims.
Mosques	- The mosque is the Muslim place of worship. It includes many items which serve a specific purpose such as the mihrab which shows the direction of Mecca, the minaret which allows for the broadcast of the call-to-prayer, an area to perform wudu ablutions and the minbar from which the imam delivers a weekly sermon. - Mosques appear all around the world and look different from country-to-country and city-to-city.
Islamic Dress	 The Qur'an teaches that both men and women should dress modestly – interpretations of this vary widely depending on the culture and individual interpretations. Some Muslim women choose to cover parts of their body with a religious covering such as a hijab which covers the hair or a burga which covers the entire body.
The Golden Age	 The Golden Age of Islam refers to a period around the 10th century when Islamic scholars were at the forefront of science, particularly astronomy. Astronomy was required by Muslims so they accurately knew the right times to pray and celebrate festivals. At this point in history there was a deep connection between religion and science.

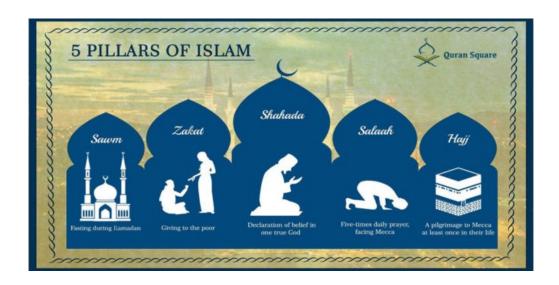

The Five Pillars of Islam

To become a Muslim, a person must say the SHAHADAH. This is a declaration of faith. It is a statement of what the person believes: "There is no God but Allah, and Muhammad is his messenger."

When is the Shahadah said or heard? In the call to prayer five times per day.

- The second pillar is 'Salah' Praying everyday. A Muslim may pray at anytime of the day, but salah is the five set times during the day that they must pray. These prayers are said in Arabic. Muslims kneel on a special mat and use a compass so that they can pray in the direction of their holy city, Makkah. Muslims must wash carefully and cover their heads before they pray.
- The third pillar is 'Zakah' Donating money. Muslims are expected to give away money to charity. This may go towards building a new hospital, or to help the poor and needy. This is an offering to Allah.
- The fourth pillar is 'Sawm' Fasting during Ramadan. The month of Ramadan is the time when Muslims try their best to live better lives and to read the Qur'an regularly During Ramadan Muslims fast during the daylight hours.
- The fifth pillar is 'Hajj' Going on pilgrimage to Mecca. Muslims must visit the holy city of Mecca, in Arabia, at least once in their lifetime.

The Key Features of a Mosque

Minaret—Very often Mosques have a domed roof and a tall tower called a minaret. Muslims are called to prayer from the minaret. The man who who enters the minaret and calls them to prayer is called a muezzin. This does not happen here in the United Kingdom.

Lets take a closer look at this Mosque. What do we notice?

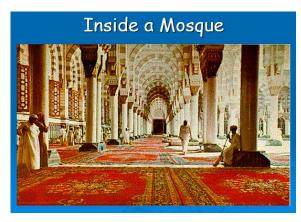

It is extremely large.

What else is interesting about the Mosque?

It's a very grand place.

It has a rounded roof.

Much of it is made out of gold.

- Inside the mosque there is no furniture
- •Decorated in Arabic text.
- Never any pictures
- May have a large single dome on the roof or one or more smaller ones

The niche in the wall is known as the Mihrab.

It marks the direction of Mecca. Prayers are offered whilst facing in this direction.
